

Twenty-Second Biennial Meeting of the Philosophy of Science Association
November 4-6, 2010
Montreal, Quebec

Call for Symposium Proposals

Submission is now open for proposals for symposia to be presented at the PSA 2010 meeting in Montreal, Quebec on November 4-6, 2010. Proposals must include sufficient supporting material to permit the program committee to evaluate the quality and interest of the symposium. See below for details.

Symposia will follow the traditional format and involve several presenters on a topic of interest. A selection of symposia will be accepted for presentation at the PSA 2010 meeting. Symposium presenters may submit their papers for review for publication in a supplementary issue of Philosophy of Science. The evaluation for publication will be of individual papers in the session. All symposium papers resubmitted for review for publication will be electronically archived, whether or not they are accepted for publication. Submission deadline for symposium papers will be announced at a later date.

No previously published papers may be presented at the PSA meeting.

Symposia of interest to members of both the Philosophy of Science Association and the History of Science Society are warmly invited.

Proposals for symposia should include:

1. The title of the proposed symposium
2. A description of the topic and a justification of its current importance to the discipline (about one or two pages)
3. A short descriptive summary of the proposal (100-200 words)
4. Titles and abstracts of all papers

5. A list of participants and either an abbreviated curriculum vitae or short biographical description for each
6. Institutional affiliation and e-mail addresses for all participants
7. Full contact information for the organizer (who may or may not be a proposed speaker), to be used for communication with the Program Committee.

The PSA 2010 Program Committee will strive for quality, variety, innovation and diversity on the program. Members of the committee are listed at www.philsci.org.

The deadline for Symposium proposals is February 1, 2010. Symposium organizers will be informed of the Program Committee's decision in early May, 2010.

Submissions must be electronically submitted through the Philosophy of Science Editorial Manager at phos.edmgr.com.

First time users must register on Editorial Manager.

NB: In accordance with long-standing PSA policy, no one will be permitted to publish more than one essay presented at PSA 2010. Symposium participants are, therefore, encouraged to let their symposium organizers know whether they also have submitted a contributed paper or are involved in more than one symposium proposal.
